THOUGHT: "My son is under 12." Tell me, what will the child in this scenario remember. The father goes to Mass every Sunday and on all the Holy Days of Obligation. They say the Rosary and talk about Christian values at the dinner table. Then, on Saturday night when they go out to the movies, the father tells the cashier that his son is "under 12.", when in fact he is already 13. Now, tell me what will make the biggest impression on the young man? What he heard all week or what he sees on Saturday night.
